Rockin' For A Purpose

When you're praying for an April Fundraiser and a few minutes later, a guy by the name of Fast Eddie messages you. You think to yourself, "Well, I was thinking something a little less crazy...but....hmmm....ok...." Y'all, I was so nervous. I am not even kidding. This was so much out of my comfort zone and not the type of music that I am used to. But I felt like God was pushing me out of my comfort zone and when I considered not taking him up on his offer, I felt convicted. So, I messaged Fast Eddie back and said "Yes, but no alcohol". His response was this: "YES, YES, YES, Thank you! I would like to have you speak before the concert, offer prayer and any Christian based information that can help people with letting them know what you guys are doing at the house. I just knew if I stayed drug free, God would allow me to do good work. Thank you!"

And that's that. I had a blast. It opened up opportunity for me to talk with people, hear people's stories of recovery and pray with people. Between t-shirt sales, donations, raffle ticket purchases and the bake sale, we were able to raise around $1100.00 to go toward paying off the house.

I made myself a new friend and don't be surprised if you see us walking around town together. He's one cool guy.

Thank you to everyone who came out, made donations and donated backed goods. Also, thank you to Solsberry Press for the awesome T-shirt design and for Autumn Trace for the Campfire Raffle item!
